Wisconsin Council of Churches

You were all called to travel on the same road and in the same direction, so stay together, both outwardly and inwardly. You have one Master, one faith, one baptism, one God and Parent of all, who rules over all, works through all, and is present in all. Everything you are and think and do is permeated with Oneness. But that doesn't mean you should all look and speak and act the same. Out of the generosity of Christ, each of us is given their own gift.
- Ephesians 4:4-7, The Message

The WCC is aligned with the worldwide ecumenical movement and local partners in ministry. The last 25 years have been filled with energy and growth, as we deliberately sought to expand and diversify our membership beyond traditional categories. Approaching the new millennium, the Council adopted major policy statements on economic justice and nonviolence, and launched a statewide project called "Jesus Jubilee: The Reign of God," with gatherings integrating worship and education by nationally recognized scholars and theologians. The WCC continues this commitment to high quality conferences with the Washington Island Forum, in partnership with The Christian Century, which draws guests from around the United States.

We equip individuals and congregations to engage in advocacy and imagine a vital future. Together we undertake work we could not do as effectively alone. The WCC has created nationally recognized resources on loving our interfaith neighbors. The Council is currently engaged in major projects relating to child poverty, immigration, racial justice, and gun violence.

Connecting 20 Christian traditions, approximately 2,000 congregations and one million church folk across the state of Wisconsin – as well as interfaith and secular partners committed to the work of justice and peace.

Creativity. Courage. Community.

As you witness the ministry of the Wisconsin Council of Churches, we hope you will see people working together faithfully across difference to address critical issues with creativity and courage. We pray and work together for the unity and renewal of the church and the healing and reconciliation of the world.
